FRANKLIN-OGDENSBURG

MINERALOGICAL SOCIETY

The Franklin-Ogdensburg Mineralogical Society, Inc. (FOMS) provides programs designed to benefit the community, mineral collectors and others interested in the minerals, mineralogy, history and geology of the Franklin-Ogdensburg Mining District of New Jersey

website: www.fomsnj.org

Our Mission:

- To establish and maintain, in cooperation with other interested groups, a permanent museum in Franklin, NJ for the minerals of Franklin and Ogdensburg
- To develop new information on the minerals and mineralogy through cooperative programs with universities and other scientific organizations and individuals
- To obtain and make available accurate, up-to-date information on the minerals and mineralogy of the area
- To facilitate collecting of the local minerals while conserving material for future collectors
- To facilitate accurate identification of the local minerals
- To promote fellowship and the advancement of mineralogy and geology by providing meetings for members of the Society

Become a member

Our yearly activities consist of seven scheduled meetings and field trips. Meetings are open to the public and are held at 1:30 pm, usually in Kraissl Hall at the Franklin Mineral Museum on Evans St. in Franklin, NJ. Members receive our official publication, The Picking Table, which is issued twice a year in the spring and fall. It features articles of interest to the mineralogical community that pertain to the Franklin-Ogdensburg area and will advise you of the dates of meetings, field trips and other activities of the Society. The FOMS activity schedule is also posted on the Franklin-Ogdensburg Mineralogical Society public group on Facebook. To become a member, please visit the website, where you will find and print the membership application.

About our website:

Our professionally designed and maintained website contains a plethora of mineralogical information. Some of the content hosted includes a comprehensive list of all the minerals in the District (with photos), a pdf file compilation of past issues of The Picking Table, a glossary of frequently used local terms and terminology, information on activities past and present and a listing of upcoming events.
